COUNCIL HOLDS SESSION

City Fathers Consider a Number of Matters at Regular Meeting Last Night—Small Volume of Business Presented

As will be seen by the official proceedings, the meeting of the City Council last night was minus animation, the business presented being disposed of in a practical manner and with but little interchange of opinion.

Appropriations totaling $12,537.50 were made. Of this amount, however, $10,000 is for schools for the fiscal year 1916-1917, it being a temporary loan. Most of the other appropriations were for road work.

Board of Aldermen

Six members of the upper board were present last night, and most of the hour and a half they were in the chamber was spent in recesses. No new business was presented; hence it was necessary to wait for papers from the Common Council.

When the report of the committees on finance and general laws requesting the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company to place free phones in certain public institutions was received, Mr. Robinson stated that he saw no reason why two should be in the city alms house. The Capital City Company had placed a free phone in that institution, and the Bell phone should be taken out and placed in some other public building. He moved that the Bell phone at the alms house be cut out.

Mr. Wilkins agreed with Mr. Robinson, but Mr. Ballenger was averse to taking out the phone, and gave his reasons for its retention.

After some interchange of opinion, Mr. Robinson's motion was lost, and the action of the common council concurred in.

When a communication from Dr. E. A. Gorman, Health Officer, asking an appropriation of $260 for office help, was received from the Common Council, that body having referred it to the finance committee, Mr. Ballenger suggested that it should be referred to the joint committees on health and finance. He made a motion that the Aldermen refuse to concur and refer the paper to both committees. His motion prevailed.

After the Aldermen had concurred in the action of the lower board on all other papers sent in, they adjourned.

Common Council .

Just before council adjourned Councilman Albert Bryan, chairman of the finance committee, served notice that there is pending before the joint committee on finance, general laws and fire a communication from a citizens' committee composed of members of the chamber of commerce, retail merchants' association and a committee of members of council asking that the city install a fire alarm system, more adequate water supply for fighting fires, electric and building inspectors, etc., and he said that the committee expected to make a report on the matter at the next meeting at which time he said he would ask for a joint session of both bodies for the purpose of airing the matter.

It was explained by Councilman Bryan that the foregoing recommendations made by the committee are simply recommendations made by the National Board of Fire Underwriters. The latter board he said he had been informed would put Alexandria on a second class fire insurance rating instead of on a first class rating on which it is now carried unless its recommendations are carried out.

Councilman Bales wanted to know if police patrol was considered when the question of fire alarm system was taken up. He was informed by Councilman Bryan that that part had been taken up by the fire committee.

An appropriation of $512.50 was made to reimburse the town of Colonial Beach, Va., for taxes collected by this city from the Potomac and Chesapeake Steamboat Company which that town is entitled to.

This action was taken on the recommendation of the finance and general laws committee following the receipt of a communication from T. F. Mason, treasurer of that town, asking for reimbursement.

It was explained by Councilman Bryan that in 1914 this company transferred its offices from Alexan-

THE FEMALE STRANGER

Anniversary of Death of Young Wife Who Expired in Her Husband's Arms in the Old City Hotel, October 11, 1816

Residents of Alexandria and visitors to our city have passed and repassed the tomb of the "Female Stranger," in St. Paul's Cemetery during the past one hundred years. It is as interesting to the visitor who stops and reads the inscription as is that on the tomb of Charlotte Temple in Trinity Churchyard, New York. The epitaph is as follows:

To the Memory of a
FEMALE STRANGER,
Whose mortal sufferings terminated
On the 11th day of October, 1816,
Aged 23 years and 8 months
This Stone is placed here by her disconsolate Husband, in whose arms she sighed out her
Latest breath, and who, under God
Did his utmost even to sooth the cold dull ear of death.
"How lov'd, how valu'd once avails thee not,
To whom related, or by whom begot,
A heap of dust alone remains of thee.
'Tis all thou art and all the proud shall be."

"To Him gave all the Prophets witness that through His name whosoever believeth in Him shall receive remission of sins."—Acts, 10 chap. 43 verse.

There is an apocryhal story to the effect that a gentleman, accompanied by a lady very ill, arrived at Alexandria and put up at the City Hotel. She remained in her room until her death on October 11. Her husband was very taciturn, and gave no information as to himself or family. After the death of the lady he purchased the lot above referred to and erected the tomb, giving in payment of his debt drafts on England (which tradition says were returned dishonored). He then disappeared and was never again heard of, although it is claimed by some old people that he was seen in prison in a Northern State. The incident led to the publication in 1866 by the late Wm. F. Carne of a most interesting story, entitled, "Narrative of John Trust."

During the past century many stories have been recited concerning this tomb. Old people were wont to tell us remarkable yarns to the effect that after the tomb had been neglected for years it would suddenly appear in a cleanly condition banked with flowers, with grass and weeds cleared from the enclosure. No one could be found who witnessed the garniture, and it was whispered that a stranger was wont to appear at the sepluchre on dark nights and employ some one to do the work.

It was also reported that the tomb was more imposing at first than at present, and that an iron railing was originally placed around the enclosure.

The most generally accepted story concerning the "Female Stranger" is that she was the daughter of an English nobleman who had married a man beneath her in social standing, and that she had fled to America with her husband, where she would be unknown. Another makes the man an offspring of nobility who had wedded a woman below his station in life. The poetry upon the slab seems to suggest the latter.

The tomb, however, still remains as mute as the Sphinx of Egypt, and will doubtless remain so until that day when that which has been done in secret shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.

GIVEN SIX MONTHS IN JAIL.

Annie Lee, Who Has Been Drifting About the City Again in Police Court.

Several years ago, when the "red light" district of Alexandria was eliminated, a woman named Annie Lee, found herself homeless and, refusing the assistance of many good people in this city, preferred to continue her life as an itinerant. She lodged at different places until her conduct became so bold that the police were forced to intervene and bring her before the Police Court. She was given terms in jail, but upon promising to leave the city, was liberated several times. She soon reappeared in our midst, and during the early summer she was arraigned and sent to jail under the vagrant act.

On last Saturday night Officers Campbell and Reed ascertained that she had taken up her abode in a lumber yard. They were soon on her track, but the woman managed to elude them by repairing to the northern section of the city. The officers finally located her, and this morning she was again before the bar. Justice Caton sent her to jail for six months.

AMERICA'S WARNING

Grave Consequences May Follow Attacks upon U. S. Submarine

Washington, Oct. 11—The United States Government in a solemn note of warning has served notice on Great Britain, France, Russia and Japan that they must accept the grave consequences which will follow any attack on American submarines resulting from the allied campaign against German U-boats.

Publication by the State Department of this note of warning to the entente powers has made it plain that the operation of German submarines off the American coast carries with it the gravest peril to American neutrality this nation has faced during the war.

The newly announced position of the United States was taken in response to a warning by the allied powers that there was danger of attack by allied warships on neutral submarines if neutrals permitted German submarines to enter their waters, since it might be impossible to distinguish between neutral and enemy submarines.

Secretary of State Lansing regarded this as a threat and in response to the allied memoranda served this counter-warning:

"In order, however, that there should be no misunderstanding as to the attitude of the United States, the Government of the United Staes announces to the allied powers that it holds it to be the duty of belligerent powers to distinguish between submarines of neutral and belligerent nationality, and that the responsibility for any conflict that may arise between belligerent warships and neutral submarines on account of the neglect of a belligerent to distinguish between these classes of submarines must rest entirely upon the negligent power.

The exchange of memoranda took place after the German submarine Deutschland entered port at Baltimore and the British government sought to have the United States order its internment as a warship. Neither the Allies note nor the American reply was then made public, however.

IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of my dear mother, Mrs, Mary F. Butler, who departed this life 13 years ago today, October 11th, 1903.

I never knew the pain you bore, dear mother.
I did not see you die.
I only knew you passed away,
And know you didn't fear to die.

If I had seen you at last, dear mother,
And held your dying hand,
And heard the last words from your lips,
I would not feel so sad.

By her daughter, Mrs. Samuel Harrington.

ALEXANDRIA LIBRARY

Meeting of Board of Managers Held Yesterday in Home of Mrs Monroe.

The annual meeting of the Board of Managers of the Alexandria Library was held at the residence of Mrs. S. L. Monroe, yesterday. The reports from the various officers show that the affairs of the Library are in a very satisfactoy condition.

The public reading room, which has become quite a feature of the library, has had a liberal patronage during the past year, especially from the public school children, who go there for reference work in connection with their studies. Many of the current magazines and current newspapers, including the Gazette, can be found in the reading room and anyone using this may have access to all the books in the library. There is no charge for the use of this.

Miss Green, the librarian, is always on hand while the library is open and is always glad to aid those seeking information.

The subscription department is constantly being replenished with most of the new books and the Board is at all times willing to comply with any reasonable demand for books that may not be on the shelves.

During the past year 6,622 volumes were in circulation. These figures do not include the many periodicals loaned. The library is now located on the second floor of Lee Camp Hall, Prince street. The cost of membership is very low.

AEROPLANES SWEEP OCEAN

Submarine Net Will be Spread From Nantucket by British

New York, Oct. 11—British aeroplanes are reported sweeping the Atlantic in search for the German submarine U-53 and others which may have accompanied her.

According to reports received here today the "submarine hawks" put out from Halifax and sped away for the vicinity in which the captain of the Greek steamer Patris reported yesterday he was stopped by the raider.

The submarine net will be spread far in either direction from Nantucket British officials intimate. They believe Captain Rose may turn southward, expecting to find there unprotected allied shipping to prey upon.

About 25 per cent of the passages booked on the Adriatic, which sails tomorrow, have been canceled, according to estimates at the steamship offices.

The Philadelphian and the Minnehaha also sail tomorrow, giving rise to reports that they may sail at the same hour and be met by British cruisers as a patrol outside the three-mile limit.

Supper will be served at Armory Hall each evening during the bazaar at 6 o'clock. There will also be dancing every night. 237-3t.

EASTERN STAR NIGHT

Ladies' Auxiliary to Attend Masonic Bazaar This Evening—Band Coming Over From Washington—Lively Contest for Silver Cup.

Everyone present at the Masonic bazaar last evening entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion and as a result all enjoyed the program given.

Much interest is being shown in the beautiful silver loving cup presented by President Fairfax Harrison of the Southern Railway. Every railroad man is eligible to enter this contest, both electric and steam roads, and while none of the electric railway men or men of the R. F. and P. Railroad have entered the contest it is understood that many of them will do so at an early date. The vote last night stood as follows:

E. Fuller 6; W. L. Finks 13; E. F. Ticer 37; E. H. Kemper 11; K. L. Lambert 6; C. R. Keith 2; C. E. Dare 3; L. O. Hardin 44.

Every lover of good music should attend the bazaar tonight. The Fraternity band of the Lamb's Skin Club of Washington, consisting of forty pieces will be in attendance and furnish the music for the occasion. This now famous organzaion, composed entirely of members of the Masonic order, was instituted primarily for the sole purpose of amusing and entertaining its own members and without the slightest expectation of reaching even a measure of distinction in the world of music. But under the hands of skillful and accomplished leaders it has developed the highest order of talent. Each member has his separate daily vocation, and music to them is in the nature of recreation or a work of love. Answering every call for charitable, benevolent or patriotic purposes whenever possible to do so, they render service of a high order of merit.

It is to be hoped that Alexandria, admittedly the most renowned Masonic community in America, will be present in large numbers at Armory Hall to give cordial greeting to these talented visitors, who are unselfishly donating their service to further an object of vital interest, not only to masons but to every citizen who cherishes our old city's past and hopes for equally as brilliant a future. The band will probably leave the train at Henry street or some other uptown point and march down King to Armory Hall arriving there at about 8 o'clock.

The ladies of Alexandria-Washington Lodge have decided to furnish a business men's lunch on Friday and Saturday of this week from 11:30 to 2 o'clock, and the indications are that a large number of business men will avail themselves of this opportunity to assist the bazaar. This booth also serves supper every evening after six o'clock.

MRS. FORNEY WINS DIVORCE

Wife of Former Washington Attorney Resumes Name of Florence Schneider.

Judge Louis C. Barley in the Corporation Court, yesterday granted Mrs. Florence Schneider Forney an absolute divorce, with permission to resume her maiden name of Florence Schneider. The defendant in the case, Thomas G. Forney, is now serving an indeterminate sentence of from four to eight years in the Western Penitentiary, of Pennsylvania for an attack upon his wife's father. He was formerly a Washington attorney.

Recently Miss Schneider has been living in Alexandria in the home of the Rev. John Lee Allison. She will in future make her home with her parents in Washington.

Miss Schneider was represented by Frederick P. Russell, of this city and L. B. Perkins, of Washington. Judge Barley declared that all the allegations in the bill of complaint were amply proved.

Fourteen men, women and children were buried under falling brick, beams and plaster early today, when two buildings, 32 and 34 West Cross street, Baltimore, collapsed. By a marvel, only two persons were hurt, and these slightly.

SUSPECT'S CONFESSION

William Carroll, Arrested Yesterday on Suspicion of Uttering Worthless Checks Makes Statement Concerning His Career in Other Places

Justice Caton sized up William Carroll correctly yesterday morning, in the Police Court. He is wanted elsewhere, in Brockton, Mass., according to his own statement. Carroll was taken in custody Monday afternoon by Chief Goods and Sergeant Wilkinson on the charge of uttering checks, suspected of being worthless, and obtaining goods and money upon one.

Justice Caton ordered the prisoner to be held ten days, he divining that he might be in demand elsewhere. After having been locked up he made the following statement in the presence of Chief Goods:

"I am 38 years old, married and my home is in Lynn, Mass., I was at one time employed by the Enterprise Shoe Company of Lynn, subsequently I became an attache of a real estate firm of that city. During my career with that firm I swindled a woman named Lynn out of one thousand dollars in a real estate deal, after which I left Lynn for Chicago, and after living in that city, Cleveland, Detroit, and New York, I went to Boston, where I was arrested in January, 1913, and sent to the state prison for two years. I later returned to Lynn, when my wife turned me out of the house, after which I went to Brockton, Mass., where I put out checks to the amount of $40. I am now wanted at that place."

Carroll, after telling of visiting certain other cities on the Atlantic seaboard, says he appeared at Harper's Ferry, where he deposited a check for $300 in the bank at that place and procured a bank book. He left Harper's Ferry and reached Washington on October 6, where he remained until the 9th, when he proceeded to Alexandria. His exploits in this city were told in yesterday's Gazette.

ANNOYED BY BOYS.

Storekeeper Has Three Mischievous Youths Arraigned in the Police Court.

The proprietor of a grocery store in the northern section of the city was the complainant against three boys who were before the Police Court this morning. He alleged that the youths were an incessant annoyance to him, disturbing his chicken coops and playing other pranks at his expense. He alleged that last night they procured ammunition from a passing wagon and when he appeared at his door to protest against their disorderly procedures he was met with a shower of shelled corn.

The officers testified that the conduct of the boys around the corner was a source of chronic complaint.

Justice Caton dismissed the prisoners with an admonition, telling them that should they again be brought before him fines would be imposed.

The oldest of the trio was thirteen years of age. Cases against juveniles are the most annoying that come before the Police Court, and the parents of such offenders should take a hand in the matter and not allow their young ones to roam the streets or gather at corners at night. It is not the best schooling children can attain at a time when their minds are in a plastic state. They should be taught early that people have rights they are bound to respect.

The question of a modern fire alarm system came before the Common Council last evening. It is hoped that when the matter is settled, wise counsel will prevail, to the end that the city may take a position abreast of the other enterprising towns throughout the land, in this as well as other matters of vital importance to its present and future welfare.

OUR IMPROVED HIGHWAYS.

The Gazette a few days ago with pride, directed attention to the improved highways leading into Alexandria. Nearly every road to this city has been materially improved during the past two or three years, and since Alexandria has annexed outlying territory formerly portions of Alexandria and Fairfax counties, these improvements have been greatly accelerated, and the good work is still being pushed with vigor.

Since the advent of the automobile the good roads fever has spread all over Virginia. Alexandria is in the natural neck of travel by rail or auto to the southern portion of the United States. During the past half a century public attempts have at times been made to divert traffic in other directions, but proposed bridges across the Potomac, lines via Georgetown and elsewhere have proved impractical, and in 1904 the Pennsylvania Railroad Company spent millions of dollars in constructing a new road from Alexandria to Washington, thereby submitting to the inevitable.

Keeping pace with the progress of its people in all the branches of industry and answering the demands of the time for adequate facilities for improved methods of transportation, Virginia, during the ten years since the organization of the State Highway Department for the concentration of effort in perfecting, a system of modern roads through the State, has made wonderful strides in the building of public highways throughout the length and breadth of the Commonwealth.

From a modest beginning in the year 1907, when there were constructed under the supervision of the department twenty-four miles of improved roads, the State's activities have broadened from year to yeear, until now, historic Virginia is traversed by a network of modern highways, reaching a total mileage of over 5,000, and connecting, in some degrees, practically every section of the State each to each.

With the coming of good roads, conditions in the State have been revolutionized. Communities have been brought closer to each other. The farmer has been brought in more intimate contact with the merchant and the banker. Modern high schools have sprung up in every section of the State, central units, around which revolve the social and educational life of the communities. Our own city has been brought nearer to the outlying districts, changing the whole aspect of economic life.

The wish of a few forward-looking Virginians, translated into action four years ago by the organization of an association with that end in view, for a thoroughly modern, durable stretch of driveway between Richmond and the national capital will be realized on January 1, when the Richmond-Washington Highway, connecting the two cities and serving them as the connecting link in the great national highway leading from New York through the intermediate section of country to Pinehurst, N. C., and points still further south will be opened for traffic.

GOT WHAT THEY DESERVED

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill, of New Jersey, ordered the arrest of a party of automobilists, who, in a car carrying a Virginia license, on Sunday, it is alleged, scattered tacks along the Lincoln Highway, near Newark, Tire punctures in twenty-five cars followed before an alarm could be given. The commissioner got the number of the car and has revoked the reciprocal rights of the owner to operate a car through New Jersey.

People who own automobiles, as well as all well-disposed people are not likely to express sympathy for the Virginians who received but part of what they deserved. Placing of tacks, broken bottles, bale wire and other menaces to rubber tires in streets or roads is a mean procedure, and those upon who such acts are proven should receive the full penalty of the law.

Such practices are often noticed in Alexandria and on roads leading to our city. The manner in which glass is placed in position shows such acts of vandalism are works of malicious persons who rejoice at the discomfiture of others.

Broken bottles, partly hidden in the dust at the edges of roads are occasionally discovered. Such menaces are intended for automobiles which may be compelled to take the fringe of a highway in order to pass oncoming machines.

Broken glass, bottles are seen in the city streets daily. That they are thrown there for a purpose is apparent. It is hoped the policemen will soon arraign some of the miscreants in order that the full extent of the law may be meted out to them.

AFFECTING THOSE AFAR

There is no telling what is radiating from the recent revival services in Alexandria. Not only have our own people been the direct recipients of "meat in due season", but the voice of the evangelist, it seems, is reverberating even among our boys on the Texan border, which will be gratifying news to their relatives and friends who may have regretted that their absent ones had no part in the late evangelistical campaign.

Letters from Brownsville show that Virginia has reason to be proud of her soldiers, not only because they are gallant and manifested their readiness to respond to the call of their country, but that their ears are open to the gospel trumpet and that they are taking time to study the Bible, and for this purpose are forming classes. One hundred and fifty soldiers of the Old Dominion were present at one gathering recently. Classes have been formed in the First Virginia Regiment, and the work of canvassing each member of the regiment for Bible study is being earnestly conducted, meetings are held weekly for devotion and the exchange of plans whereby all their comrades can be induced to "go along with them" in this most commendable work. One Virginian secured five recruits for the army militant in one day, another fifteen, and so on.

Some soldiers have carried Bibles in their knapsacks in by-gone days. During the war between the states a young man upon taking leave of his mother promised he would carry the Bible she gave him next to his heart. In an engagement a musket ball struck the book and saved his life. Upon recovering from the shock, he pulled the Bible from his breast and held it up with the exclamation, "We all would be better off if we gave heed to our mothers."

THEY ARE FOR WILSON

Luther Burbank, the eminent horticulturist of California, who recently came out in support of President Wilson, says: "I believe him to be the greatest statesman we have ever had."

Mr. Burbank also further declares that he endorses, without reserve, the position announced by Thomas A. Edison, who has also come out emphatically for President Wilson.

Mr. Edison made this statement: "Times are too serious to talk in terms of Republicanism or Democracy. When it is America that is at stake men should vote as Americans. A fool or a coward would have had the United States in all sorts of trouble. Under President Wilson's wise administration we are at peace; the country was never more prosperious, and we have the strength that comes with honor and integrity of purpose."

When men of such ability and prominence voluntarily come forward with statements such as are here quoted, it indicates the earnest interest they feel in the election and should cause the undecided voter to think seriously concerning the candidate he will support in November.

Chronic Dysentery.

"An old gentleman of this town who was almost at the point of death with chronic dysentery some time ago and had given up all hope of recovery was induced to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. One dose stopped the discharge, and after taking a few more doses he was completely cured," writes J. L. Baer, West Manchester, Pa. "Many residents of Baer's Station can testify to the truth of the above and were aware of the old gentleman's condition." Obtainable everywhere.

DIVORCES GRANTED.

Final decrees for divorces were granted to the plaintiffs by the Corporation Court today:

Alice Scott vs. George Scott, upon the ground of desertion.

Florence Schneider Forney vs. Thomas E. Forney, upon statutory and other grounds.

Carrie Johnson Dawson vs. Scott Dawson, upon the charge of desertion.

VIRGINIA NEWS

Paragraphs Picked Up Here and There Throughout the State.

No British steamers have left Newport News, since Sunday, and while the British vice consul will make no statement, shipping men say that none will leave until the German submarine U-53 is accounted for or British warships arrive off the capes to protect the outgoing ships. There are nearly a score of British steamers at Newport News, but none are making preparations to get away. Shipping is demoralized as a result of the activities of the German undersea craft. Hundreds of horses are waiting shipment to the allied armies of Europe and the grain elevators are overstocked.

John Kerr Branch, of Richmond, and Adrian Iselin, jr., Charles Lanier, and Edmund D. Randolph, of New York, have been re-elected directors of the Southern Railway Company. The stockholders approved the policy of withholding dividends for the present. Damage to company property occasioned by storms in July was estimated at $1,250,000.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Nervous derangement, culminating in an uncontrollable homicidal mania, is believed by officials investigating the case to have impelled William Lowell Ellis to kill his wife, Augusta Willoughby Ellis, and to shoot himself at Hollyhock Farm, the Ellis home on the Bethlehem Pike near Philadelphia.

Walter F. Waldeman, 17 years old, of Vineland, N. J., University of Pennsylvania freshman football player, who was injured on October 2, tackling a dummy, died Sunday night at the University Hospital, Philadelphia. His legs and arms were paralyzed and the injury to his spine extended the paralysis to his body, causing death.

Gen Foch's army yesterday struck another mighty blow against Germany's front on the Somme, Attacking on a sector of three miles south of the river, between Berny-En-Santerre and Chaulness, the French troops swept forwardd into the villages of Bovent and Lisieres, which had been strongly fortified by the Teutons, and captured as well, northwest of Ablaincourt, the greater part of Chaulnes wood, The French captured 1,200 prisoners.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped hundreds of thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

Modernized Chiropractic has put more so-called Incurable Diseases on the list of curables than any other drugless method known.

When applied to the study of the nature, cause and elimination of disease, it becomes a science and philosophy which is able to locate and analyze, unerringly, the cause of disease, and provides the best method known at the present time for removing the cause.

The method is original, unique, adequate, and is the most prompt in bringing about a cure. It is absolutely safe.

dria to Colonial Beach and the latter town was entitled to the taxes which this city had collected.

The sum of $800 was appropriated to improve the station drive on the east border of George Washington Park from Leesburg pike to the river road, which is the road that will connect King and Duke streets.

It was explained by Councilman Bales that this will be made a public road and will come into Duke street near the West End schoolhouse.

A resolution of Councilman Carlin providing for the designation of eleven out of the twelve free telephones which will be given by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company in connection with its franchise was adopted.

The telephone company, under the provisions of its contract, will continue a free fire alarm system for this city. It is also provided that the company reimburse the city for tolls on 'phones at police headquarters and Lee school since July 27. On motion of Councilman Smith the 'phone now in use at Lee school, which is paid for at present, was included among the free phones.

The following is a complete list of the telephones furnished free and the new resolution: Office of the clerk of the corporation court, city treasurer, city engineer, gas office, gas works, mayor's office, city alms house, police headquarters, Alexandria High school, West End school and Lee school. A place for the twelfth 'phone will be designated later by council.

Petition of Alexandria Water Company, through D. J. Howell and Son, engineers, asking for legal grade in order to lay its mains in George Washington Park to Overlook lane was referred to committee on streets and general laws.

Councilman Bales thought general laws committee was not necessary to add to the list, although President Smith explained that sooner or later the city will have to determine what are streets in this territory and that was why he added the committee on general laws whereupon Mr. Bales agreed to the general laws committee being added.

Petition of street employes of the city setting forth that they cannot live on wages they now receive and asking that they hereafter be paid twenty cents an hour, and that men who work tar on streets receive twenty-five cents an hour was referred to the finance committee.

Councilman Bendheim expressed himself in favor of an increase in wages for these men.

The other business transacted will be found in the official proceedings.

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO.

Revolt Against De Facto Government of Carranza is Imminent.

El Paso, Texas., Oct. 10— Within the next 24 hours several of the military leaders of the de facto government of Mexico will revolt against the Carranza reign and form a fusion with the legalist party.

The Carranza paper currency, which is being paid to the soldiers is practically worthless, and is being refused by a majority of merchants, many of whom have closed their stores.

They are not replenishing their stocks because they are compelled to buy with gold and sell at a loss, taking paper currency. Thousands are starving because there is no food to be obtained in the country.

Soldiers who cannot obtain their discharges are deserting. Many of the smaller garrisons are turning over to Villa, who is paying his men with silver currency and supplying their families with food.

Embargoes on all export stuff for Eastern ports were laid yesterday by several big railroads, including the Lake Erie and the Big Four. Renewed submarine activity was given as the cause.

Get Rid of That Miserable Feeling.

There are few diseases that make one feel more miserable than a disordered stomach. Mrs. A. Wingale, Gorham, N. Y., writes: "I began using Chamberlain's Tablets about five years ago. At that time I was having a great deal of trouble with my stomach. I suffered great distress due to indigestion and constipation. Nothing did me much good until I got Chamberlain's Tablets." Obtainable everywhere.

Cured Her Children of Colds.

"During the past winter I had occasion to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my two children, who were at the time suffering from severe colds. It proved to be the very medicine they needed," writes Mrs. Myron J. Pickard, Memphis, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.

Negro Assaults a Little Girl

Coatesville, Pa., Oct. 10,—Midvale and city police and a posse of citizens are searching the hills tonight for a Southern negro who committed an outrageous assault upon Mary, 5 year-old daughter of Joseph Gobenski, of No. 3 Sibersa street, a foreign settlement, in the northwestern part of the city. The little girl was brutally abused. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon the child and some companions were playing with their dolls beneath an oak tree when the negro came along, picked up little Mary and carried her to the woods near-by. Companions saw the negro take the child away and informed her mother. By the time the police arrived the child was coming across the field, crying bitterly. Mill men joined in the hunt for the negro and the father of the child talked of another lynching.

GERMANY DEFIANT

Would Resume Policy of "Submarine Frightfulness"

Berlin, Oct. 11—Notwithstanding reports to the contrary, that Germany is about to do so, or already has made, peace overtures, it can be stated on, the highest authority that Germany has not the slightest desire to "feel out" the entente allies through President Wilson or the head of any other neutral government at this time.

On the other hand, it may be stated that Germany is prepared to wage the conflict at least five years longer.

It may also be said with equal reliability that Ambassador Gerard carried no request for President Wilson's good offices in ending the war, because Germany cherishes no illusions as to the war's duration.

It is also learned that Germany is about to change her stand on submarine warfare. This is supported by the fact that Reichstag, which reconvenes today, has now a majority favoring a resumption of the submarine warfare on all shipping, regardless of pledges given to the United States in the Lusitania case. All elements, except the social democrats, are united in support of the policy of "submarine frightfulness."

The Danish West Indies

The sale of the Danish West Indies by Denmark to the United States, was unanimously approved by acclamation at a meeting held yesterday at St. Thomas, D. W. I., attended chiefly by workingmen, laborers and artisans. This course was favored rather than the institution of reform, under the existing regime, the transfer being held to be the only means of remedying existing unsatisfactory conditions on the island. A memorial to that effect was handed the delegates who are to go to Copenhagen to present the views of the Islanders.

Four policemen and eight strikers were shot yesterday in three serious riots at the Standard Oil works, in Bayonne, N. J.

"My son nineteen years of age suffered frequently from bilious attacks. My husband brought home a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets and began giving them to him. They helped him right away. He began to eat heartily and picked up right along," writes Mrs. Thomas Campbell, Kirkville, N. Y. Obtainable everywhere.
